Scholarship Opportunity Description & Forms

Each year, hundreds of women seek an opportunity to expand their horizons learning to fly. Whether they are new pilots or experienced pilots desirous of improving their skills or seeking a professional career, many of these women are stopped because of a lack of funding. The Ninety-Nines, Inc. is collecting a registry of scholarships to offer to these aspiring pilots to start or continue their flight training. It is our hope that you, as a pilot, an aviation enthusiast or as a supporter of women, will sponsor a scholarship of a minimum of $500 for one or more of these women.

Attached is a copy of the standard Application and Instructions to Applicant for your review. Below is a form for you to describe the scholarship opportunity that you would like to offer, the amount of the scholarship, any limitations (e.g., geographic, type of training, age) that you would like to impose, and any additional information that you would like to receive to help you in selecting the scholarship awardee. Please be sure to name your scholarship and, if it is a memorial scholarship, please include a brief statement about the person whom you are honoring.

You may announce the winner of your scholarship any time you wish. Please let us know who the winner is so that we can create a list of the recipients. We are asking that you commit to fund your scholarship opportunity at this time (no money needs to be sent). Send your scholarship offer by January 15 (preferred) and be prepared to receive completed application packets by April 20 for consideration. You or your organization will be the judge as to the recipient(s) of your scholarship using the criteria that you select. You will make the payment arrangements directly to the recipient or her flight training center/instructor. You may make the award immediately to get your pilot flying.

Thank you for your support of women pilots and The Ninety-Nines, Inc.
